"Leave people to their own unlimited leadership and a dreadful involution will immediately assert itself. Today in the West people rebel particularly against any and every authority and are afraid to lose their individuality." Helena Roerich-Agni Yoga

Leadership belongs to all human endeavors. Thus you are a leader wherever you are. Real leaders cultivate the principle of sensitivity and direction to the Common Good. Join renowned spiritual Teacher, author, and lecturer Joleen DuBois for a fourteen-week exploration into the multidimensional aspects of creativity and what it means for our own self-transformation.
